

To make a gallon of milk, a cow needs to drink how much water?

Written by Admin

Tuesday, 22 December 2009 03:57 - LAST REVISED Thursday, 24 December 2009

To make 9 gallons of milk a day, a cow must drink 18 gallons of fresh, clean water (2 gallons of water for every gallon of milk).