

How much milk do cows produce?

Written by Admin

Thursday, 24 December 2009 12:18 - LAST REVISED Thursday, 24 December 2009

The average California cow produces 19,825 pounds of milk each year, more milk per cow than any any other state in the nation. That's 2,305 gallons of milk a year or about 8 gallons of milk every day of her milking period. That's enough for 128 people to have a glass of milk every day!